ANNUAL CONGRESS

Bari - Italy - June, 4-7 2008
Sheraton Nicolaus Hotel

Dear Colleagues,

We are delighted to invite you to Bari, Italy for the World Congress of Gynecologic Endoscopy – 17th Annual Congress of the International Society for Gynecologic Endoscopy and SEGI Annual meeting which will be held in Bari from June 4th to 7th 2008. Bari is the second most important city of the southern Italy and has one of the largest universities of the country. It has been natural hub for both trade and cultural exchange between the east and the west for centuries. The University of Bari has always supported activities in the field of Gynecologic Endoscopy thus becoming one of the International Reference Centers for this area.

Gynecologic Endoscopy is not a new medical field and many conferences have been organized and solutions and answers have been found for a number of topics while others are still being debated. The Bari Meeting will focus on the few areas that are still under discussion and on the technological advances in the field.

A key part of the Congress will be the numerous live surgery sessions scheduled during the three days of the Congress with leading International experts.

During the pre-congress activities attendants will have the opportunity to share their experience with experts and a dedicated one-day congress will be organized for nurses.

This meeting will also be an occasion for you to taste the typical cuisine of the area and become acquainted with architectural heritage and natural beauties of Apulia, a land known for the warmth of its friendly people and mild climate.

Arrivederci, then, in Bari in June.

President of the Congress
Prof. Stefano Bettocchi

CONGRESS WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that I invite you to attend the next Annual Scientific Meeting of the International Society for Gynecologic Endoscopy to be held in Bari, Italy, June 4-7.

This will be a very special event to mark, for the first time, collaboration of meetings of the ISGE together with the Annual Meeting of the Italian Gynecologic Endoscopy Society (SEGi). It promises to provide ground-breaking advances in gynecologic endoscopy combined with some of the great social pleasures that wonderful Italy has to offer.

Stefano Bettocchi and his Congress committee have compiled an exciting Faculty and a challenging program which aims to address the real place of minimal access surgery in the modern practice of gynecologic surgery.

Live surgery with international experts and pre-Congress workshops together with core topics addressed in the central program will provide all delegates with a wide variety of selections to fulfill their academic desires.

After hours the combination of fabulous Italian architecture, hospitality and cuisine will make this an ISGE meeting not to be missed.

June 4-7 Bari, see you all there

ISGE President

Peter J. Maher

Dear Friends,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the International Meeting of Endoscopic Surgery that will be held in Bari, from June 4 to 7, 2008.

SEGi and ISGE cooperate successfully to enhance and improve the level of knowledge in the fields of endoscopy and gynecology in Italy and abroad.

The Bari event is a valuable opportunity for ISGE to promote a scientific congress in Italy with the participation of outstanding experts.

Numerous endoscopic gynecologic procedures have been performed in the hospitals of Bari and specialized training courses have been held here.

The beauty of the city will be an unforgettable setting for such a prestigious scientific event.

We look forward to meeting you in Bari!!!

KARL STORZ – FULL HD platform

In medicine, precision and focus are key terms. In order to continue developing and enhancing quality standards KARL STORZ has developed a new tool – the FULL HD platform – which guarantees the user a new visual dimension.

The highest resolution possible – 5 times greater than the standard – combined with the 16:9 format guarantees brilliant picture quality and larger display details.

Now, with an upgrade of the IMAGE1™ CCU, HD quality is becoming ever more accessible to the field of medicine: from the HD camera head right up to the HD WideView™ monitor.

All this is perfectly in line with the KARL STORZ philosophy that all previous IMAGE1™ systems as well as their numerous functions are fully compatible and can therefore be used with the FULL HD platform too.

THE TOWN OF BARI

The origins of Bari are very old, but not well established. Items dating to the Bronze Age have been found in the oldest part of the town; however, most of the historians agree that the town was founded between 1600 and 1100 B.C. by the Illyrians, coming from the Balcan peninsula, on the other side of the Adriatic sea. The name probably comes from "Barione", the leader of one of the Illyrian groups.

The first reliable information regarding Bari dates back to the 4th century B.C. when it went under the Roman rule. In the following centuries the town kept up relationships with Rome and Tito Livio underscored its strategic importance.

After the fall of the Roman Empire, Bari was involved in the war with the Goths, and later with the Longobards, against the Byzantines.

In the 9th century, after many raids, the Arabs succeeded the Longobards and settled in Bari for about 30 years, setting up an emirate. It lasted until 871 when the army of Ludovico II brought the city back under the Byzantine rule, although this did not meet with the people's favour. In 1071 the city was conquered by the Normans, led by Roberto il Guiscardo, and became part of the dukedom of Apulia and Calabria.

This was the beginning of an important period in the history of Bari. In 1087 St. Nicholas' holy remains were taken from Myra (Turkey) by a group of sailors and brought to Bari, where the building of a dedicated Basilica was decided and started immediately.

In 1089 the remains were brought by Pope Urbano II into the yet to be completed crypt of the Basilica (the whole Basilica was completed after about 100 year). Bari and the dukedom of Apulia and Calabria subsequently fell under the domination of the Norman King of Sicily, whose dynasty shortly came to the end and was replaced by the Hohenstaufen Swabians; this was the period in which Frederick II (later crowned also Emperor of Germany) reigned. He loved Apulia (he was called "puer Apuliae") and built or restored many castles in the regions, among which the castle in Bari and the famous and mysterious Castel del Monte (on the top of a hill, about 50 km from Bari). Angevin and Aragon rulers followed for about three centuries. Toward the end of this period, in the 16th century, two women had an important role in the history of Bari: Isabel of Aragon, widow of the Duke of Milan Gian Galeazzo Sforza, who enlarged the castle making it her private residence, and Bona Sforza, Queen of Poland, who established strong links between Bari and the Cracow court.

Following Bona Sforza's death, Bari was again included in the kingdom of Naples, ruled by a Spanish viceroy. That was a long period of decadence for Bari and the south of Italy. Led by Napoleon Bonaparte the french came.

Led by Napoleon Bonaparte, the French came to this part of Italy, and his brother-in-law Jacques Murat's became King of Naples. Under Murat's rule, Bari started to grow shortly becoming the most important city of the region. In 1808 Murat decreed the building of the new part of the city, a modern district which was called "Murattiano". At the end of the French rule, the Bourbons came back and reigned until the unification of Italy, in 1860. Bari is now the first city and administrative capital of the region of Apulia with about 350,000 inhabitants.
